FAIR MAIDS

AND FAIR HEARTS

Sweetheart of the football team and her court who reigned over the annual home-coming festivities when the Demons clashed with the East Texas Teachers' Lions of Commerce, Texas. The queen and her attendants also led the grand march in the annual home-coming ball in the women's gymnasium. The football sweetheart and her maids were named by the varsity squad, each senior on the team making a nomination. The sweetheart of the team and queen of home-coming festivities, Miss Willie Lou Talbot of Houma, is pictured at center. Members of her court are, upper row, left to right: Miss Ruth Lee, Oak Grove; and Miss Geraldine Lyons, Meoringsport. Below: Miss Eloise Welborn, Merryville; Miss Marie Zuelke, Port Vincent; Miss Jimmie Gray, Colfax; and Miss Jo Jo Tucker, Leesville.

GEOGRAPHY

A picture man of rare insight
was handsome John S. Kyser, but all the pictures that he made,
made students none the wiser.

MUSIC

The picture drawn of Gilbert Saetre
shouldn't be like that:
Gil used to be a tuba man;
he's now a tub a fat.

PHYSICS

In physics Fournet was a whiz
but had no comprehension;
he couldn't make his lectures clear
when teaching Fifth Dimension.

MATH

Young Georgie Miller walked to school;
in math class he did linger:
he learned to count upon his feet
but not upon the finger.

DO YOU KNOW THESE TEACHERS?

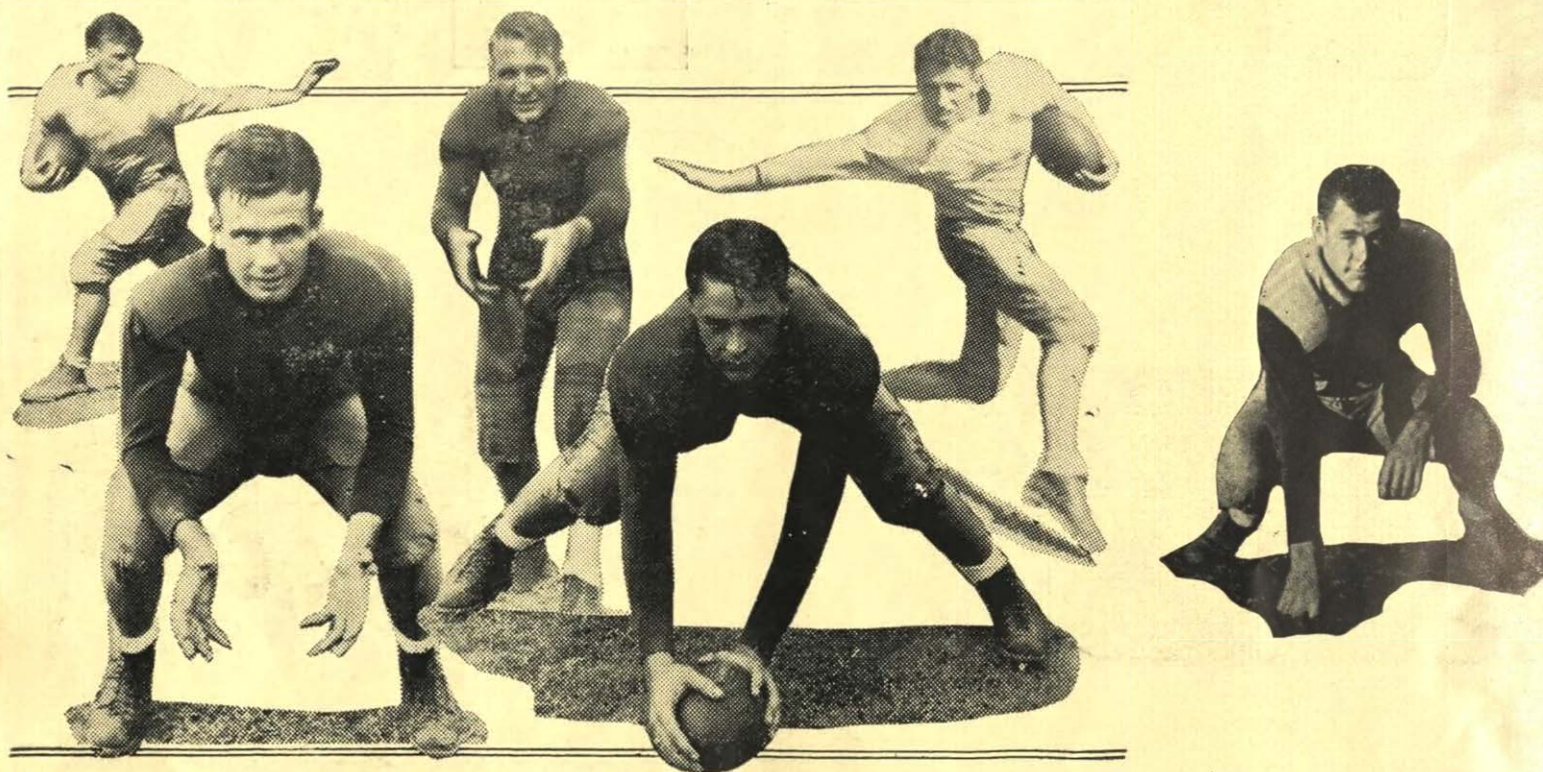

REGISTRATION

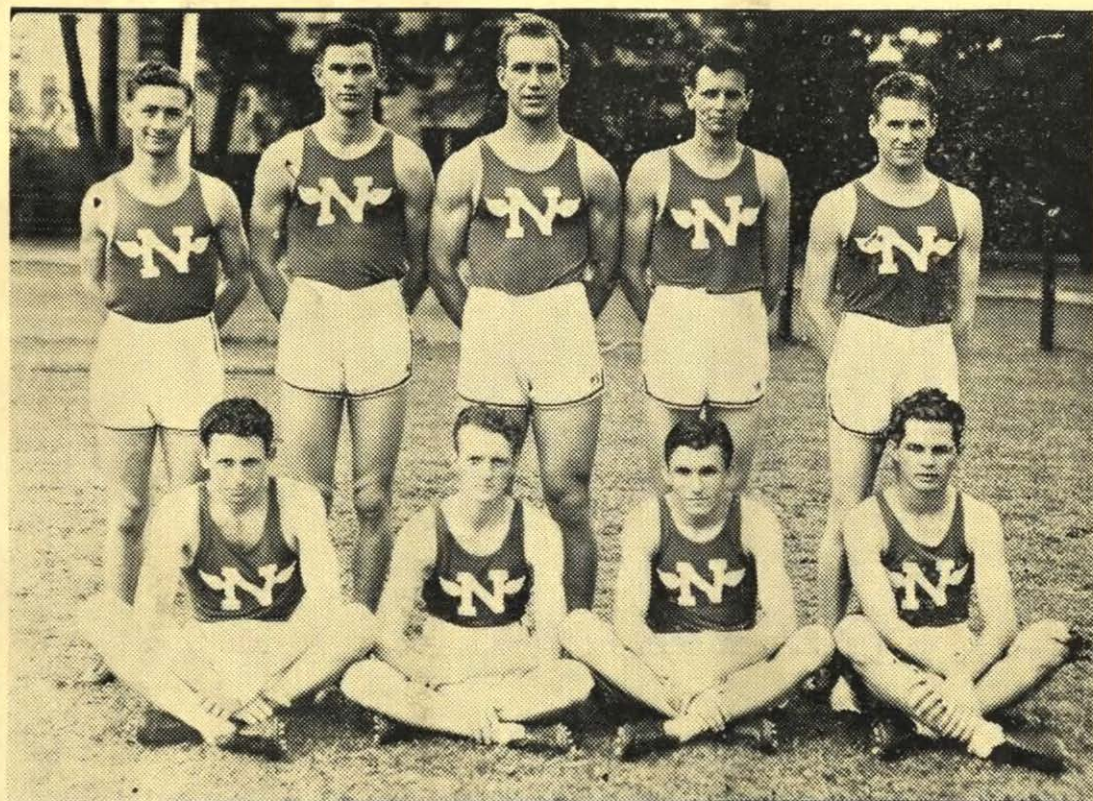

Mitchell is as nice a man
as registrars can be,
but when he puffs his big cigar
it's hard for him to see.

HISTORY

Pappa Weiss, in all his prime,
thought history was grand,
but now he lectures to his class
with little bags of sand.
